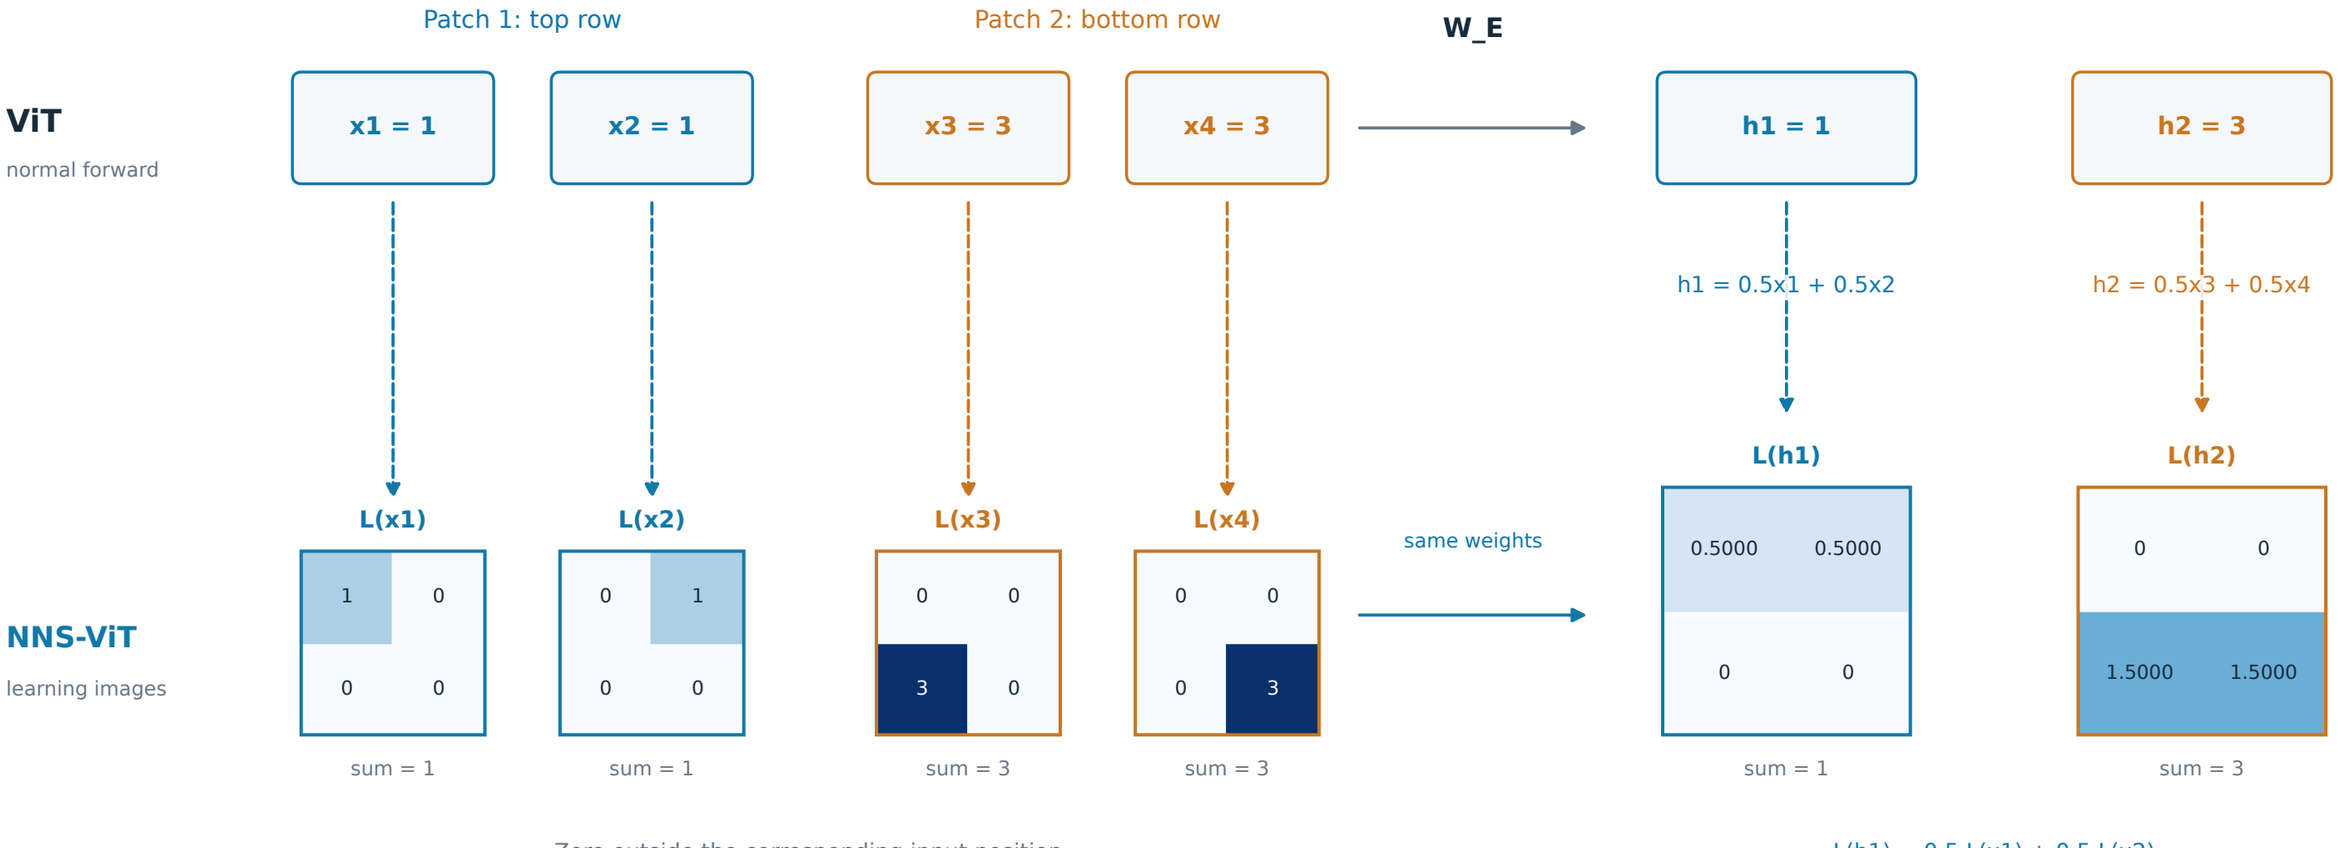
Patch embedding: scalar tokens above, learning images below

One 2 × 2 input; each row is one toy patch. The same projection weights [0.5, 0.5] apply to both patches.



The normal output has two numbers. NNS keeps a complete input-position image for each number.