The same computation, two aligned views

Read left to right: input → patch embedding → attention → residual. Dashed lines pair each value with its learning image.

Same 2 × 2 reference-zero example in all four diagrams. These are response maps, not class-output component allocations.